Dr. and Mrs. Prinzing are home from a weeks trip to Portland. They found things badly demoralized in Portland by the silver thaw, all the street cars being out of commission and many of the streets being impassable because of the broken trees and wires. They were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. U. Sanderson while there and say they were entertained royally.

Jake Ullman, of the Alexander Company, was here several days assisting the local managers in taking stock of the Alexander store. Mr. Ullman said that the business for 1915 was good in all of their stores but that the showing for January was better than a year ago and the indications are good for a much better business year. Mr. Ullman went east Monday to take stock in the other stores of the Company.

Otto Blackaby, who is with the Blackaby Commercial Company at Jordan Valley, is here this week visiting with his family and friends. The roads were pretty bad coming out, requiring two days for the 75 miles. The cattle and sheep in that section are wintering well, the hay and grain holding out all right. On the desert they are not so fortunate as they have a couple of feet of snow and little feed, so some loss is expected.

Harry Wilson, the mining man who is much interested in the nitrate beds on Succor creek, was here Monday consulting with other members of the company. When the legal tangle is unwound there will be a big move

PARMA'S GRAIN YIELD FOR 1915

A special from Parma says, the grain crop produced in that district in 1915 totals 450,000 bushels of excellent quality. Comparing this with the grain crop grown here six years ago when the crop totaled 60,000 bushels it is seen that the farmers of this section increased the cereal crop here 750 per cent during the past six years. Not only is the grain crop of 1915 much larger than six years ago but it is of a far superior quality according to the statement made by J. F. Walmsley, the manager of the Parma Milling & Elevator company. As proof of this Mr. Walmsley stated the elevator here this season handled oats produced here that weighed 46 pounds per bushel, barley that weighed 54 pounds to the bushel and wheat that went as high as 64 pounds per bushel.

Mr. Walmsley quoted the following excellent grain yields here in 1915: George Obendorf, 64½ bushels of wheat per acre from 14 acres, and 90½ bushels of oats per acre from 13 acres.

Charles E. Norman, 60 bushels of wheat per acre from 33 acres. Drosy Simpson, 76½ bushels of wheat per acre from 7 1-3 acres, and 68 bushels of wheat per acre from 20 acres.

H. C. Anderson, 63.3 bushels of wheat per acre from 10 acres, and 55 bushels of wheat per acre from another 10 acres; and 90 bushels of oats per acre from 10 acres.

Raymond & Calloway, 55 2-3 bushels of wheat per acre from 100 acres. Fred Hulse, 55 bushels of wheat per acre from 55 acres.

C. J. Jackson, 55½ bushels of wheat per acre from nine acres.

It is stated these phenomenal yields are due to the fact that these farmers and others have built up their land by growing red clover seed. The red clover seed industry here has grown by leaps and bounds until last year the seed production reached a total of 750,000 pounds.

Mr. Walmsley in 1915 had five acres planted to Red Globe onion seed which he will ship next week. He sold this seed at 75 cents per pound, f. o. b. Parma, or a total of $1200, or an average of $240 per acre from the five acres.

In the way of development of these vast bodies of mineral and many men will be given employment. The war has caused a big demand for this produce and the price has gone up to $400 a ton, where it is normally about $40.

M. E. Newton arrived home Sunday from a trip to the sunny south land. He was in San Diego when they had the floods and says the harbor there was damaged to the extent of several hundred thousand dollars by the floods, the loose earth coming down from the valleys and rendering dredging necessary. All the improvements in several of the valleys were swept away and many of the people lost their lives. He was also at Los Angeles and other points.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Scholes, of the Short Line, are home from a trip to Chicago, Detroit and Canadian points. Joe says they have noticed the weather this year, that section getting the pleasant winter that the Snake river valley usually gets. There was no snow east of Wyoming. Along the border there is much war talk and the Americans are going into Canada and enlisting by the thousands. The recruits get $1.60 a day and all expenses and most of them figure that it is an even chance the war will be over before they can be sent to the front.

W. A. Robertson, of Drewsey, was a visitor to Ontario this week. He reports plenty of water in his section, but no damage. Stock is wintering well. There is little frost in the ground and most of the moisture will do good. They had nearly two feet of snow. Drewsey is quite a town in many respects, they have never levied taxes for municipal expenses, having raised all moneys by an occupation tax and they have money in the treasury after building good roads and side walks. The latest move is for an electric light plant. They must have a bunch of good boosters there.

A. Jaquish was called to Caldwell Wednesday on business connected with the Nitrate Company. Looks like there might be something doing in that line soon.

C. W. Mallet returned Monday from Portland, where he had been snow bound for several days. He says there was six feet of snow at Bonneville and plenty of it all along the line.

H. B. Grauel started for Portland Tuesday evening to look for a new location. Mr. Grauel will be missed very much, should he decide to leave Ontario as we have not enough men here of his calibre.

Rev. Koenig started for the Sound country last week, but was tied up at Pendleton and finally concluded to come home and not go to Everett where he was engaged to help in some special meetings. The roads are not yet open.

Mrs. Fred Bailey returned Tuesday from an extended visit to Portland. The weather was very disagreeable and the silver thaw very damaging to the trees and shrubbery. Mrs. Bailey will remain here for a few weeks and then return to Portland until the spring weather opens up.

Friday evening is the date for the Leap Year dance and the young ladies are determined to give the boys an idea of how they would like to be entertained, and who knows, early chicks.
